

Staying the night in Sunila – a memorable journey through Aalto architecture

Nostalgic, close to nature, peaceful and inspiring - Experience the journey of beautiful adjectives in Sunila, Kotka!

The overnight stay in Sunila is the mini-trip to the architecture of Aalto, to the past and the present community and Kotka's marine nature.

The iconic Sunila is the architects Aino and Alvar Aalto's largest complete residential area designed by both, a so-called forest suburb. During the trip we will not only explore Sunila's history of the factory community and the region, but also the present day and the prospects for the future. Sunila forest suburb is relatively unknown gem in terms of tourism, so the package is suitable for all trend-setters.

Kantola in Sunila was completed as the home of factory manager Lauri Kanto. Kantola architecture is typical Aalto. Its spacious exterior and modest look give way to a harmonious interior, bright and cosy spaces. Nature comes into the building through its large windows.

The group will dine in Kantola and there will be other activities on the trip. Accommodation will be provided in Kantola or in Airbnb apartments in Mäntylä, Kuusela or Honkala.

The authenticity of the trip is enhanced by a guided walking tour from worker's home to worker's home and a storytelling architectural brunch during which you will hear among other things the story of the Aalto couple's love for Italy and Finnish nature.

The package includes:

- Accommodation in Sunila's Kantola or in an employment accommodation
